

1991

March 3, 1991, LA police brutally beat Rodney King.
Image: George Holliday

2022

April 4, 2022, Grand Rapids cop shoots Patrick Lyoya in the back of the head, April 4.

In 1991, the police in Los Angeles were caught on video brutally beating a Black man, Rodney King, after a traffic stop. 30 years ago, on April 29, 1992, people in LA rose up in a beautiful, righteous rebellion when these pigs were acquitted.

Last week, police in Grand Rapids, Michigan killed an unarmed Black man, Patrick Lyoya, after a traffic stop.

Protest after protest, even heroic rebellion—yet the system’s oppression goes on and on... and is being geared up for something even worse. Reforms cannot stop it. Protest and rebellion are absolutely needed, but on their own they don’t go far enough.

30 years after the heroic 1992 LA Rebellion, the revcoms say:

WE REFUSE TO ACCEPT THEIR FUTURE,
WE ARE GETTING ORGANIZED FOR A REAL REVOLUTION

Get with the revcoms on May 1, 2022, 2 pm
at corner of Wilshire & Alvarado near Westlake/MacArthur Park
Metro Red Line
station

REVOLUTIONARY
INTERNATIONALIST
MAY DAY 2022

Read

Follow

Watch

www.revcom.us • @TheRevcoms • YouTube.com/TheRevcoms